

Writing in the Sand – A Summer Series Enrollment Form

Join in spirit with author Rosemary Augustine to be write or be creative while near sand, wind or water. Think about your travels this summer. What journey do you want to take? Identify patterns, heal your soul, resolve problems areas that you want or need to address to complete your spirit's journey? You decide. Course is available for purchase now through August 31st. First virtual class starts June 16th. You schedule when you take the class and return your feedback as requested within two weeks of completing each class.

June 16th – Marina del Rey, CA... July 14th – Cape May, NJ... Aug 4th – Grand Lake, CO

Writing in the Sand – A Summer Series gives you a chance to work on the creative areas of your life in the quiet of your day. Journal, create an outline for your new book, write a short story, create characters for your fiction work, write music, poetry, do beadwork, sketch, paint, learn how to free write or just how to “be still.” Whatever it is, you participate in this exciting journey no matter where you are that day ... on your patio, at the beach or on a boat.

Stimulate your creativity generated by Rosemary as she creates the moments for you to be inspired. This is a virtual writing course. You participate virtually by receiving your assignment prior to the day of the event – via email or snail mail (your choice). Completing the assignments in writing is an option. You may use any means of creativity... from creating art, music, collage, beadwork or other forms of creative inspiration you desire. You don't have to be artistic to participate – which makes it even more fun for you.

- YES! Sign me up to receive all assignments for Writing in the Sand – A Summer Series created by Author Rosemary Augustine. I want to participate spiritually, virtually and organically in this creative outlet.
